

Project Manager (PMO) in Atlanta, GA at HUNTER Technical Resources

gs.com/job/Project-Manager-PMO/J3J4NV6P4...

Job Description

Project Manager
Atlanta, GA

One of the nation's leading banks, our client offers you the opportunity to expand your skill set and achieve your career goals.

DESCRIPTION:

Responsible for supporting the project management needs of a business unit, division, or company-wide. Has an understanding of the business unit(s) and the operating systems that support them. Serves as the project expert (defining and executing projects regarding various business initiatives). Prepares business cases including financials and success factors for proposed operating and/or product changes. May conduct pilot tests of proposed operating and/or product changes. Completes post-audit of business case after implementation is complete. Manages the most complex projects independently that cross multiple divisions, states and/or are corporate-wide initiatives. Acts as a change catalyst. Responsible for (setting project priorities, establishing goals and strategies). Responsible for project results. May (negotiate with outside vendors) and interact with and be able to influence, senior management. May manage or (provide guidance to other team members).

REQUIREMENTS

- 7 years of successful Project/Change Management experience
- PMP Certification
- MBA
- Deep knowledge of segments of Wholesale Banking
- Experience in internal or external consulting organizations
- Recognized as an expert corporate consultant in multiple disciplines
- Demonstrated ability to lead and coach others
- Strong knowledge of MS Office
- Bachelor's degree in a relevant field, or an equivalent combination of education